

Helps Launch College Event

Michael Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullen, 1519 Pose Ave., is one of 28 Carleton (Minn.) College juniors who are participating in the planning of this weekend's 1961 Junior Carnival, a two-day extravaganza which has for its theme this year, "Let's Go Pogo," after the famous comic strip character.

A stage show, a midway featuring 40 booths offering games of skill and chance, a beauty and the beast contest, and a cartoon sideshow are among the special attractions of this annual event. This entire production is planned and executed by members of the junior class.

Tahitian Dancer Held at Polynesian

Emma Terangi, songstress-dancer from Tahiti, has been held-over for an additional four weeks at the Polynesian Restaurant in Torrance.

Pete Reitz, general-manager of the tropical dining establishment, has re-signed the island artist to entertain nightly until Nov. 1.

Four Outstanding Young Musicians Plan Debut

California's four outstanding young music talents of 1961 will be presented in concert at "Debut Night '61" Friday evening at 8:30 in Shrine Auditorium by the Young Musicians Foundation and the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Speak deliberately, but not in such a way as to make it seem thou art listening to thyself—for all affectation is bad.

—MICHAEL de VERVANTES (1547-1616)
Spanish novelist

Making debuts will be pianist Adrian Ruiz, 23, of Los Angeles; cellist Gayle Smith, 17, Glendale; baritone James Tippey, 29, Los Angeles, and composer Robert Brunner, 23, Brentwood.

Supporting them will be a 110-piece symphony orchestra assembled by the Foundation from metropolitan Los Angeles and 20 outlying communities. The orchestra will be directed by Henry Lewis, conductor of the Philharmonic's Symphonies for Youth concert series again this year.

THE JUNIOR Chamber made the concert a reality for the young musicians by substantially supporting "Debut Night," and by its Music and Fine Arts Committee administering the patrons planning programs, organizing ticket sales and school programs, and gaining public support for the worthwhile cultural activity.

The concert will be in tribute to Dr. Bruno Walter of Beverly Hills, at age 85 one of the world's greatest living conductors. He will attend the concert to present one of the four $1,000 scholarships being given by the Foundation to the winners.

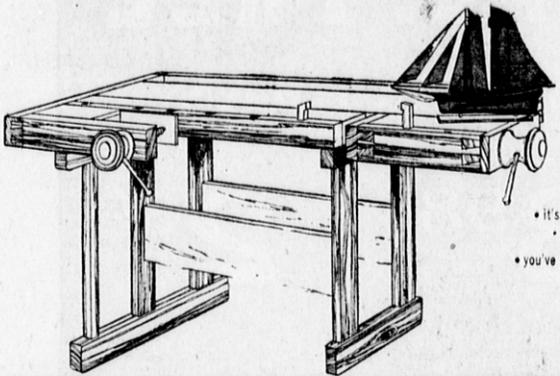

ALSO TAKING part in the scholarship presentations will be Elmer Bernstein, Foundation president; Gregor Platigorsky, world-famed cellist and Foundation honorary president; and John F. Kimberling, Los Angeles Junior Chamber president.

The winners also will receive "Harmony" statuette awards, newly established by the State of California to give annual recognition hereafter to the Foundation's "best in state" winners. Governor Brown will present the "Harmony" statuettes, designed by Marvin Hime.

PLAN SYMPHONY . . . Mrs. Waldo S. Hunter (right) of Glendale, president of the Symphony League of Los Angeles County, maps out her plan for "Debut Night" ticket sales with members of her patrons committee, Maestro Elyse Aehle (seated) of Palos Verdes Estates, and Mrs. Culyer Van Buren, Burbank. Maestro Aehle is conductor of the Civic Symphony, president of the Pacific Bowl Assn., and Palos Verdes area chairman of the Multiple Sclerosis drive.

Tartar Senior Ray Bynum Gets Nod as 'Mayor'

The fifth Annual Junior Citizens Day will be held Tuesday when students from the three high schools in Torrance and the Bishop Montgomery High School will act as counterparts for city government positions. This year's student mayor, selected from Torrance High School, will be Senior Ray Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bynum, 1103 Patronella.

On Monday all students who are to take the part of elected officials, including the mayor, councilman, city manager, city attorney, and city clerk will meet in the council chamber of the Torrance City Hall in the afternoon for a short briefing session, where they will receive copies of the proposed agenda for the council meeting on the following evening.
